Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not teach a bearing locking arrangement as defined by the claims. The arguments in the Appeal Brief are persuasive and claims 1-2 are allowed over the prior art. The US Patent 1,561,443 to Searles teaches a bearing locking arrangement having fingers, wherein a locking collar is configured with a large diameter and small diameter to compress the fingers into engagement with a shaft for locking the bearing in a predetermined position. However, Searles does not teach a "a fastener screw operable for causing said large diameter of said collar to compress said fingers into locking engagement with said shaft." Searles illustrates a screw associated with the collar, however the screw does not cause the large diameter of said collar to compress said fingers. The claim are not anticipated by the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
